SURPLUS PROPERTY — A HOW-TO SUBMIT GUIDE

WHAT IS SURPLUS PROPERTY?

Surplus property is considered items and assets that State agencies and departments have determined they no longer use or need. This process covers all durable goods that are too large and/or valuable to be disposed of in the office provided trash or recycling receptacles.

Some typical items include desks, chairs, tables, file cabinets, new office supplies, vehicles, heavy equipment, working office equipment, and electronics*, such as laptops and desktop computers (with hard drives removed —see SOV Digital Media and Hardware Disposal Policy). We also receive less typical items such as breathing apparatuses, marketing displays, lockers, cabinets, and unused building maintenance supplies.

The items that come to Surplus Property are as varied as the agencies and programs themselves.

The Surplus program operates per V.S.A. Title 29 Section 1556:

Surplus Property will review all state property designated "surplus" by state agencies/ departments and determine the appropriate method for disposition.

Disposition may be any of the following for each item:

- Transported to the Surplus Property warehouse
- Trash/Recycle (surplus can take metal recycling, surplus does NOT take trash contact BGS Property Management for assistance with trash)
- *E-Cycle (collection information and fees)
- Auction (physical or online)
- Direct sale (sold direct from agency/department location)
- Trade-In
- Donation

Once your agency or department has given its approval to relinquish its property, you will need to fill out a Surplus Property Notification Form (shown below). The Notification Form can be found at bgs.vermont.gov/gbs/surplus/forms. Use the Surplus Property Notification form for all items/asset that DO NOT require a title and/or registration (ie: vehicles, trailers, boats, etc.).

Required Information:

Header: Date, Vision Billing Number (example: DVHAXX, DMVXXX, BGSXX, etc), Agency/ Department, Contact Person, Contact Telephone, Contact Email

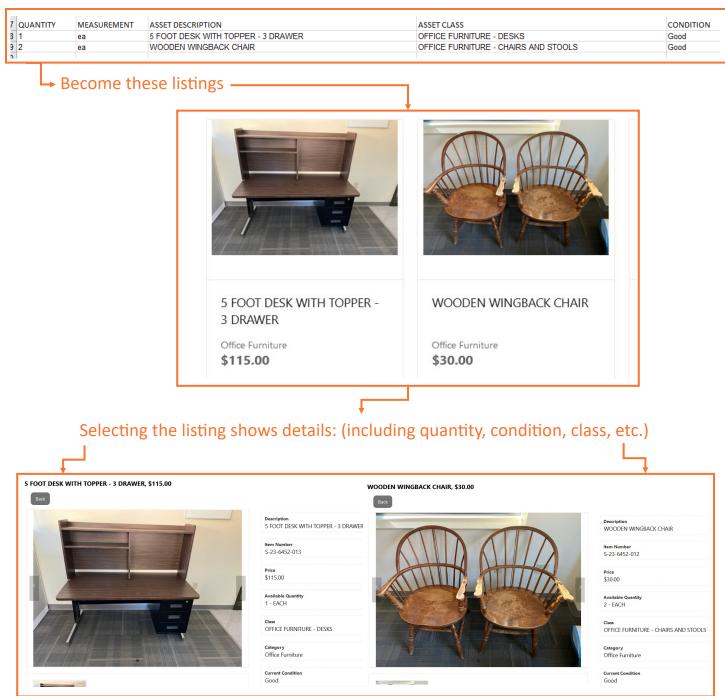

- A line item for each unique item. A unique item is defined as something that is the same in look and condition.
  - Example: 5 identical blue chairs in good condition, 1 blue chair in poor condition—this is two line items.
- Each line item will need an accompanying photo (unless Surplus Property staff waives photo requirement). Photo should be clear, have the item centered in the photo, and be representative of the look and condition of the item(s)
  - Exception: General office equipment/supplies valued under $20.00 new
  - Exception: Laptops, Desktops (with hard drive removed)

2.

Accurate photos and descriptions are essential to the surplus process. In addition to helping staff decide disposition, asset descriptions become the "name" of the item on our showroom website and the photo submitted becomes the representative image.

3.

Communication is essential. Below are some dos and don'ts with regard to the surplus property submission process.

DO

DO describe the item with material, color, utility, measurements, etc.

5 FT DESK WITH TOPPER - 3 DRAWER WOODEN WINGBACK CHAIR 5 DRAWER LATERAL FILING CABINET - TAN STANDING HEIGHT RECEPTION DESK - BLUE/WOOD

- Do e-mail photos and notification form to bgs.surplusproperty@vermont.gov
- DO make sure all drawers are empty and unlocked
- After approval by Surplus, DO plan transport of items to final disposition location (need assistance? Fill out a move request)
- DO call or e-mail us with any questions.

DON'T

 DON'T send a non-specific or blurry photo

DON'T use one word or one color to describe and define an item

- DESK CHAIR FILING—TAN BLUE TOP
- DON'T e-mail a quick note that a few items are on their way (without getting approval or submitting a NF or photos)
- DON'T send your trash to surplus. Drawers should be cleaned out.
- DON'T send items to surplus without approval from Surplus Property

Note: This could result in the return of the items at your expense.

Surplus Submission Checklist

- Agency or department (the customer) determines it has surplus property
- Agency or department completes the Surplus Property Notification Form.xls
- Agency or department takes .jpeg photos to represent each line item
- Agency or department sends email with Notification Form and photos to bgs.surplusproperty@vermont.gov
  - Surplus Property reviews submission and responds (minimum 3 day turn time) to the customer with the disposition of each item
    - After receiving approval from Surplus, customer coordinates asset transportation, recycling, and/or disposal. Removal can be done by:

Customer: Deliver items to Surplus Warehouse. Consider State employee job specifications when moving large or heavy items. Deliveries to Surplus Property are to be made by 3:00 pm.

Moving Contractor: You will need to enter a move request (see quick links below). Upon receipt of the request, BGS Property Management will work with you and a moving contractor to coordinate pickup. Someone from your department will need to be onsite on the pickup date to provide access and oversite of the movers. PLEASE NOTE: Movers charge an average of $125/ hr. from the time they leave their warehouse to the time they return.

BGS Maintenance: Maintenance will not deliver items to Surplus. Occasionally they may be willing to move items to onsite dumpsters. Discuss with your buildings maintenance staff or enter a move request indicating your preference that BGS Maintenance do the work.
